

Gus Exhibits Aggressive Behavior Toward Sister

A cat may bully his littermate because of an underlying medical condition.

J. Veronika Kiklevich, DVM

Posted: Fri May 13 00:00:00 PDT 2005

4. Controlled, slow introductions using food as a distracter or reward and a feline pheromone diffuser or spray may help the situation. Always stop the introduction at the first sign of aggression. A desensitization program will take a long timemonths to a yearso do not try to rush the reintroduction of these two cats. During this period, anxiolytic medications may help.