

Cat Experts Give Advice on Kitten & Cat Care

Jeanne Adlon, Professional Cat Sitter

Hello to all you who share your homes with our wonderful feline friends! I have been a professional cat sitter in New York City for 35 years and have cared for countless kitties while their owners travel. I am not a doctor or a behaviorist, but I know cats and am continually asked advice. I am thrilled to be given the opportunity to share what I have learned with you here on CatChannel.com. Please e-mail me your questions, and check my page for weekly answers. Read Jeanne's full biography.

Ask Jeanne a question about your cat now!
Jeanne's Tip of the Week:

If your cat eats dry food only, please make sure there is plenty of fresh water available. More tips

Latest Advice from Jeanne Adlon Can I Make My Cat Less Afraid of the Cat Carrier? \(New!\)
CatChannel expert Jeanne Adlon, professional cat sitter, discusses ways to help your cat to like cat carriers.

Find Ways to Save Money on Cat Food and Cat Litter
CatChannel expert Jeanne Adlon, professional cat sitter, offers advice for saving money on cat products.

Can I Make My Cat More Comfortable at the Cat Vet?
CatChannel expert Jeanne Adlon, professional cat sitter, tells a reader how to help cats' vet visits.

Each week, Jeanne Adlon will respond to one e-mail question. If you have a sick cat, seek veterinary assistance immediately. Do not wait to see if your question is answered, especially if your pet is showing signs of illness. In many cases, time is of the essence.

Disclaimer: Our expert service provides information to assist cat owners in caring responsibly for their pets and to assist the visitors of our website on feline behavior issues. All information provided is strictly informational in nature and should never be used as a substitute for proper care and medical attention for your cat. CatChannel and BowTie, Inc., along with any of their respective subsidiaries or employees, expressly disclaim all liability associated with the failure of anyone using this source of information to care for their pet.