

Kittens! Why Do They Do What They Do

Usually, if a kitten is “ignoring” a command, he was either never really taught the command in the first place (many times people just start saying Come Here or Stop It! as if the kitten could automatically understand the meaning of their words) or the owner has not made it worth the kitten’s while to care about the command.

Consequences, not commands, control a cat’s behavior. Reward your kitten for behaviors you want to see more of.

Enjoyed this excerpt? Own this great kitten book for more information on kitten behavior. Click Here >>