Angels with dirty faces? It's not just a movie. Those Javanese - so charming and irresistible - often can't resist themselves.

"They sometimes like to find high-up dusty places and roll around in the dust, coming out blackened in the face and body parts," says Linda Gallaway, a Javanese breeder based in Thailand. "They have a comical approach to life. One of mine does summersaults, and it looks so cute and funny! It always gets a laugh."
