

Wild at Heart

The Savannah features the wild looks of the African Serval with the tame personality of a domestic cat.

By Stacy N. Hackett

As a child, Kathrin Stucki dreamed of living with a large wild cat. As she grew older, she gained experience raising and training wild animals and learned of the limitations that prevent people from owning wild cats, such as litterbox training and a wild cat's inability to be kept well in a small indoor environment.

Stucki fulfills her dream by breeding and promoting the Savannah through her cattery.

*Get the August 2009 issue of CAT FANCY to read the full article.****