

Breed Snapshot: That's Entertainment

The exotic-looking Chausie brings fun and lighthearted mischief to the home.

By Elisa Jordan

Looking for something? Can't find your keys? Watch missing? You're not absentminded. And your house isn't haunted, either.

You've been Chausied. Snatching something up or popping open a cupboard door is par for the course for these dexterous cats.

"I've talked to people who have had something lying out, and the cats will manage to steal it and hide it someplace," says Bobbie Tullo, a breeder in Arizona and The International Cat Association (TICA) breed chair. "They're entertaining to watch just because they are kind of busy, and they are into everything."

**Get the December 2008 issue of CAT FANCY to read the full article.****