Earth-friendly feline furniture

By Helen Jablonski

During the holidays, cat owners like to buy special gifts for their furry feline companions. A piece of furniture is an excellent choice, as it can provide your cat with a new place to play, observe its surroundings and sleep. But did you know that not all cat furniture is created equal?

Cat trees, perches and condos often are made with pressed wood or particle board. While these components make the furniture less costly to manufacture, the materials are not necessarily healthy for your cat.
