

FRIENDS FOREVER

Tips to help your cat and baby get along.

By Lisa MacColl

You're becoming a parent for the first time, and you have a cat. Can cats and babies live happily ever after without the fur flying? Of course they can, if you follow these simple steps. Certified animal behavior consultants Beth Adelman, Steve Dale and Marilyn Krieger, and animal communicator Sue Becker offer these suggestions:

Get the October 2007 issue of CAT FANCY to read the full article.