

Feline Minds

“Criminal Minds’ ” Joe Mantegna reflects on his family, career and life as a cat person.

Critically acclaimed film, television and stage actor, and self-professed cat person, Joe Mantegna is perhaps most like the role he played on TV in “Joan of Arcadia,” for which he was named one of TV Guide’s “50 Greatest TV Dads of All Time.” Today he stars in the CBS series “Criminal Minds” as an FBI agent. He and wife Arlene will be married 34 years in December and are parents to two daughters and three cats. CAT FANCY talked with him about his many roles in life and on screen.

**Get the October 2009 issue of CAT FANCY to read the full article.****