Bubba is your typical Russian Blue. He's a friendly kitty who wants to be your best friend. But please, have the courtesy to introduce yourself. Once you do, you will find yourself with a cat totally and completely devoted to the entire family, including its newest members.

"After a few weeks, Bubba discovered that when the baby was crying, if he came up and just pranced around in front of him, the baby would stop crying," says Peg Johnson, the Georgia breeder who placed Bubba with his family. "Bubba became a great babysitter."
