Traditionally, there have been only a few career options for cat lovers. Many young people who love animals usually want to become veterinarians, but there are very few numbers of openings in veterinary schools every year, and this dream often cannot become a reality.

Fortunately, new career options for young cat lovers are growing as society's interest in companion animals continues to increase.

There are now many new careers that allow people to work with cats, including cat sitting, cat grooming and cat writing, just to name a few.

Here are just some of the career options for cat lovers.
