

Updated: 09-12-06

Stay up-to-date with the latest cat news from all around the country.

Posted: September 12, 2006, 5 a.m. EST

Rescued Cats on the Road to Recovery

Mickey-Bo and 272 of his feline housemates are quiet, content and gaining strength under the care of a team of veterinarians, volunteers and staff members at the Cortland County SPCA, The Ithaca (New York) Journal reports. Read the article

CNYSPCA Reduces Cat Adoption Fees

The Central New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals says it's running out of room at its shelter, so it's dropping the cat adoption fee for one week to encourage more adoptions, WSYR-TV in Syracuse, New York, reports. Read the article

Cat Thieves Steal Lion Statues

A Florida family is growling mad after some real life cat burglars stole their lion statues, CBS4.com in Doral, Florida, reports. Read the article

Montreal on Lookout for Suspected Cat Tormentor

Animal rights groups are on the lookout for a suspected cat torturer and killer who recently adopted at least two cats, The CanWest News Service reports. Read the article