

The CatChannel Newswire

Top stories: Firefighters rescue cats; seizure of tiger bones shows big cats still are targets.

Posted: July 11, 2008 2 a.m. EDT

Firefighters Rescue Cats from Blaze

Two cats survived a fire in a Shelbyville, Tenn., home Wednesday afternoon with the help of firefighters and emergency workers, the Shelbyville Times-Gazette reports.

Read the article

Seizure of Tiger Bones Shows Big Cats Still Are Targets

When Wildlife Crime Control Bureau officials, with cops in tow, walked into one of the rooms on the first floor of a New Delhi building and opened a polythene bag kept there, they immediately knew the informer was on the ball. The bag contained 15 kg of tiger bones, The Times of India reports.

Read the article

Rare Big Cats Hit It Off

Keepers hope to hear the patter of tiny paws of rare Amur leopards after introducing five-year-old Artur and three-year-old Xizi at Wildlife Heritage Foundation in the United Kingdom, Kent Online (United Kingdom) reports.

Read the article