

The CatChannel Newswire

Top stories: Baldness drug has cats licked; cat hoarder banned for life from owning cats.

Posted: August 15, 2008 2 a.m. EDT

Baldness Drug Has Cats Licked

Vets have warned men using hair growth stimulants to keep their pets away from their head after a Sydney, Australia, cat went into heart failure after licking its owner's scalp, The Sydney (Australia) Morning Herald reports.

Read the article

Cat Hoarder Banned for Life from Owning Cats

A man who once lived in squalor with more than 40 felines has been barred from owning cats for the rest of his life. It is believed to be the first such ban in the Canadian province of Saskatchewan, the Leader-Post (Canada) reports.

Read the article

Cat Fight Brewing Over San Juan's Feral Felines

On an island that has come under fire for throwing dogs from bridges and euthanizing healthy racehorses, the animal rights debate has now turned to hundreds of feral cats that prowl Old San Juan, Puerto Rico, The Associated Press reports.

Read the article