

The CatChannel Newswire (09-26-2008)

Top stories: Time is running out for L.A. pet owners to comply with spay/neuter law; big-cat show will go on.

Posted: Sept. 26, 2008, 3 a.m. EDT

Los Angeles Cat Owners, Time is Running Out to Comply With Spay/Neuter Law

If you've been on the L.A. Animal Services website any time in the last couple of months, you know the department maintains a digital countdown of the days, hours, minutes and seconds until the city's spay/neuter law goes into effect Wednesday. Now, there's less than a week to comply with the ordinance requiring most pet cats and dogs in Los Angeles to be sterilized, the Los Angeles Times reports.

Read the article >>

Fair Reverses Decision; Big-Cat Show Will Go On

The Great Cat Adventures show is back on at the Tulsa State Fair. Mark Andrus, Expo Square's interim president and CEO, said his earlier decision to cancel the show had nothing to do with complaints from an animal-rights organization, Tulsa World (Okla.) reports.

Read the article >>

Guilty Plea in Killing of Nevada Mountain Lion

A Winnemucca man could face up to one year in jail after pleading guilty to illegally killing a mountain lion after it became snared in a trap, The Associated Press reports.

Read the article >>