

The CatChannel Newswire

Top stories: Stray cat in New Jersey tests positive for rabies; Washington cat saves elderly owner from fire.

Posted: March 5, 2009, 3 a.m. EST

Stray Cat With Rabies Found in New Jersey

County health officials are setting traps and passing fliers out to area residents after a stray cat found in Delran, N.J., tested positive for rabies, the New Jersey Courier-Post reports.

Read the article >>

Washington Cat Saves Elderly Owner From Fire

A Bremerton Fire Department official said an elderly woman has her cat to thank for saving her life in a house fire, the Associated Press reports.

Read the article >>

Water Employee Arrested in Cat-Abuse Attempt

A North Marin Water District employee has been arrested on suspicion of animal cruelty for allegedly pouring antifreeze into food bowls left out for feral cats, the San Francisco Chronicle reports.

Read the article >>