

The CatChannel Newswire

Top stories: Veterinarians volunteer for Oregon emergency teams; court ruling could make it harder for landlords to evict tenants with cats.

Posted: April 21, 2009, 3 a.m. EDT

Veterinarians Volunteer for Oregon Emergency Teams

The Oregon Department of Agriculture has recruited nearly 180 veterinarians and technicians around the state who can help with any emergency response for animals during a disaster or disease outbreak, the Associated Press reports.

Read the article >>

Ruling Could Make It Harder to Evict Tenants With Cats

For the past five years, 73-year-old Siiri Marvits has been fighting her landlord in court for the right to remain in her rent-controlled West Village apartment with her feline friends, Athena and Apollo, the New York Daily News reports.

Read the article >>

U.S. Supreme Court to Rule on Animal Cruelty Law

The U.S. Supreme Court said on Monday that it would decide whether a federal law that makes it a crime to sell videos of animals being tortured or killed violates constitutional free-speech rights, Reuters reports.

Read the article >>