

The CatChannel Newswire

Top stories: Tiger-attack brothers split nearly $1 million; tree-service owner saves the day for Staten Island cat.

Posted: June 1, 2009, 3 a.m. EDT

Tiger-attack Brothers Split $900,000

The San Francisco Zoo agreed Thursday to pay $900,000 to two brothers who survived the fatal attack by an escaped tiger on Christmas Day 2007, sources familiar with the case told The San Francisco Chronicle.

Read the article >>

Tree-service Owner Saves the Day for Staten Island Cat

Breathe easy, cat lovers of Staten Island: Dottie is safe after getting stuck in a tree for five days, the Staten Island (N.Y) Advance reports.

Read the article >>

Mountain Lion Victim Released From Hospital

A 10-year-old girl bitten by a mountain lion kept by a family in Columbiana County, Ohio, is out of the hospital and an investigation is under way, reports WTOV9.com.

Read the article >>