

The CatChannel Newswire

Top stories: Cat rescuer pleads guilty to cruelty; four cubs represent new hope for endangered South China tiger.

Posted: July 15, 2009, 3 a.m. EDT

Cat Rescuer Pleads Guilty to Cruelty

A western Pennsylvania woman has pleaded guilty to multiple counts of animal cruelty more than a year after agents found hundreds of cats, most of them diseased, on her 29-acre property, the Philadelphia Inquirer reports.

Read the article >>

Four Cubs Represent New Hope for Endangered South China Tiger

At the Wangcheng Zoo in the Chinese province of Henan, four tiger cubs represent new hope for an entire species. The cubs — three born in late April and one in early May — are members of the rarest tiger subspecies, the South China tiger, the Los Angeles Times reports.

Read the article >>

Man Arrested, Charged in Cat Thefts

A Greensboro, N.C., man who police said stole 37 cats from the Rockingham County Animal Shelter in an effort to keep the animals from being destroyed turned himself in to police Monday afternoon, reports WXII12.com.

Read the article >>