

The CatChannel Newswire

Top stories: Feral cats in Beverly Hills get a reprieve; Boots the cat reunited with owner.

Posted: July 16, 2009, 3 a.m. EDT

Feral Cats in Beverly Hills Get a Reprieve

The issue of feral cats is a hot-button one in Beverly Hills, where a resident, 65-year-old Katherine Varjian, could face jail time as a result of caring for a colony of the homeless animals, the Los Angeles Times reports.

Read the article >>

Boots the Cat Reunited With Owner

A cat that was stuck in a tree for nearly eight days is back with its owner, who was away on vacation while her pet was the center of attention, reports the (Hagerstown, Md.) Herald-Mail.

Read the article >>

Intruder Stomps Kitten to Death

The Johnston County, N.C., Sheriff's Office is investigating a case of cruelty to animals after a kitten was found dead in a home where a break-in had occurred, the (Dunn, N.C.) Daily Record reports.

Read the article >>