

Tufts to Host Breeding/Genetics Conference

Event promotes communication, collaboration among stakeholders.

Posted: August 22, 2009, 3 a.m. EDT

The 4th Tufts Canine and Feline Breeding & Genetics Conference will be held Sept. 10-12 in Sturbridge, Mass. Its aim is to promote communication and collaboration between researchers, veterinarians, breeders and breed clubs.

Jerold Bell, DVM, director of the Clinical Veterinary Genetics course at Cummings School of Veterinary Medicine at Tufts University, will lead the symposium.

The conference is sponsored by Nestle Purina PetCare, the American Kennel Club's Canine Health Foundation, Winn Feline Foundation, Veterinary Information Network and the Orthopedic Foundation for Animals.
