

The CatChannel Newswire

Top stories: Reward doubles in duct-taped cat case; celebrities gone wild for cats and dogs.

Posted: September 25, 2009, 3 a.m. EDT

Reward Doubles in Duct-Taped Cat Case

The reward is up to $2,000 now to help find and convict whoever duct-taped a cat found abandoned Tuesday in North Philly. Workers at the Pennsylvania SPCA affectionately named her "Sticky" after vets sedated the cat to cut all the tape off with scissors they normally use to remove bandages, NBCPhiladelphia.com.

Read the article >>

Celebrities Gone Wild for Cats and Dogs

As we all know, romance and marriage are fleeting in Hollywood. One love affair that stays constant, however, is the one between celebrities and their dogs and or cats, the South Carolina News reports.

Read the article >>

Cats Add Life to University of Hawaii

Cats can frequently be spotted on the University of Hawaii at Manoa grounds and continue to be an addition to life on campus. These cats, many of them with notches in their ears, are seen daily around campus and seem to be a part of the UH community, but who takes care of them and why are they here? And what are those notches in their ears, reports the Honolulu Advertiser.

Read the article >>