

The CatChannel Newswire

Top stories: Homes sought for kittens abandoned at parks; lost cat travels 300 miles on bus.

Posted: October 6, 2009, 3 a.m. EDT

Home Sought for Kittens Abandoned at Parks

Mary Lavigne can't afford to take too many more evening walks in the county parks. So far this fall, it's costing the single mom about $25 a week in cat food and litter, reports the Flint (Mich.) Journal.

Read the article >>

Lost Cat Travels 300 Miles on Bus

An intrepid Bengal cat called Geoffrey traveled over 300 miles in the luggage compartment of a coach from his Isle of Wight, England, home to the Yorkshire resort of Whitby before being found, the Telegraph.co.uk reports.

Read the article >>

Kitten Tracks Across Pet Cemetery Connects Old Friends

The kitten tracks are frozen in time in the broken chunks of old concrete. They were made by a young tabby wandering across the concrete pad shortly after it was poured for our pump house on Sterling Creek south of Jacksonville on Aug. 6, 1948. The telltale tracks walked right past the date inscribed by the homeowner back in the day, the (Medford, Ore.) Mail Tribune reports.

Read the article >>