

The CatChannel Newswire

Hot Topics Edition: In case you missed them, here are the stories cat lovers were buzzing about last week.

Posted: October 12, 2009, 3 a.m. EDT

Puma Project Provides Rare Glimpse Into Elusive Big Cats

As restless as humans, Bay Area mountain lions have commute patterns just like ours. A new research project is identifying where humans and pumas cross paths, in hopes of preventing deadly consequences, the Santa Cruz (Calif.) Sentinel reports.

Read the article >>

Lost Cat Travels 300 Miles on Bus

An intrepid Bengal cat called Geoffrey traveled over 300 miles in the luggage compartment of a coach from his Isle of Wight, England, home to the Yorkshire resort of Whitby before being found, the Telegraph.co.uk reports.

Read the article >>

Canadian Man Breaks Into Zoo, Gets Clawed by Tiger

In a clear case of be careful what you ask for, a Canadian man climbed a fence to break into the Calgary Zoo and soon got up close and personal with a Siberian tiger who delivered serious injuries to the gentleman's arm, which landed him in the hospital, the Los Angeles Times reports.

Read the article >>