

The CatChannel Newswire

Top stories: Pets, like their owners, are living longer; rise of the supercats.

Posted: October 15, 2009, 3 a.m. EDT

Pets, Like Their Owners, Are Living Longer

Vixen, the tortoiseshell cat who could have been considered "senior" 10 years ago, is 21 years old and going strong. And she's joining the growing ranks of senior pets who — like humans — are living far longer than ever before, reports the Jacksonville (Fla.) Times-Union.

Read the article >>

Rise of the Supercat

In our "bigger-is-better," super-size-me society, it may not come as much of a surprise that demand for designer "supercats" — domestic breeds crossed with larger, exotic African or South American wildcats — is surging skyward, reports the San Francisco Chronicle.

Read the article >>

Litter of Kittens Rescued From Rubbish

Glen Golian of Waste Management thought he heard something amidst the garbage in the Dumpster behind a Greeley business. It turned out to be tiny cries for help, the Greeley (Colo.) Tribune reports.

Read the article >>