

The CatChannel Newswire

Top stories: San Francisco Supervisors support cat declawing ban; Florida group offers veterans free cat or kitten adoption.

Posted: November 6, 2009, 3 a.m. EST

San Francisco Supervisors Support Cat Declawing Ban

A majority of San Francisco supervisors agreed Tuesday to ban the declawing of cats, calling the procedure a barbaric practice that opens the city's feline residents to stress, chronic pain and behavioral problems, reports the San Francisco Chronicle.

Read the article >>

Florida Group Offers Veterans Free Cat or Kitten Adoption

To honor service people for Veterans Day, the Humane Society Naples is offering a free cat or kitten adoption to veterans who can verify his or her military service, reports (Fort Myers, Fla.) News-Press.com.

Read the article>>

Cats Have Nine Lives, But Say Only One Word

Our youngest cat is very outspoken. Before the kids ever laid eyes on him, they heard his distinctively raspy meow. He was just a kitten, but he already sounded like a grizzled bartender after a rough night, reports the Dallas Morning News.

Read the article>>