

The CatChannel Newswire

Top stories: California lawmakers consider an animal abuse registry; rescued cats up for adoption.

Posted: February 24, 2010, 3 a.m. EST

California Lawmakers Consider an Animal Abuse Registry

California may soon place animal abusers on the same level as sex offenders by listing them in an online registry, complete with their home addresses and places of employment, reports The New York Times.

Read the article>>

Rescued Cats Up for Adoption

Photographs provided by the Hawaiian Humane Society show a room filthy with feces from 45 cats that two sisters kept in their apartment. The cat's owners surrendered the animals and were issued 45 cruelty warnings; the cats are in temporary housing, waiting for new homes, reports HawaiiNewsNow.com.

Read the article>>

The Most Unusual Hotels in the U.S.

At Turpentine Creek in Eureka Springs, Ark., you actually sleep among the cats — lions, cougars, leopards and tigers, that is, reports MSNBC.com.

Read the article>>