

The Cat Channel Newswire

Stay up to date with the latest cat news from all around the country.

Boy Saves Box of Kittens From TrashAn 11-year-old New Jersey boy saved a beer box full of kittens from a trash bin, NBC10.com in Pennsylvania reports. Read the article

Cat Rescued From Meth HouseMembers of the North Metro Drug Task Force found an active meth lab when they stormed a home in a quiet Minnesota neighborhood, and a few days later, a neighbor said a cat was still in the chemical infested house, KARE-TV in Minneapolis reports.Read the article

Judge Gives Cats Owners Chance to Prove ThemselvesA San Antonio judge has given the owners of 31 seized cats one week to prove they are worthy of caring for the felines, KSAT-TV in San Antonio reports.Read the article

Cat Advocate Struggles with FinancingA Denton County, Texas, woman is fighting to keep her nonprofit Siamese cat rescue center open, KVUE-TV in Austin, Texas, reports.Read the article

Cat-Tossing Trial BeginsThe fate of a man accused of animal cruelty in a case where five kittens were alleged to have been thrown from a moving car seems to hinge largely on the testimony of a single eyewitness, the Bradenton (Florida) Herald reports.Read the article

Posted: April 12, 2006, 5:00 a.m. EST