

The Cat Channel Newswire

Stay up to date with the latest cat news from all around the country.

Maine Expands Domestic Protection Law to Include PetsSpurred by growing evidence of a link between domestic violence and animal abuse, Maine has enacted a first-in-the-nation law that allows judges to include pets in protective orders for spouses and partners leaving abusive relationships, the Associated Press reports.Read the article

What to Do When a Good Cat Does a Bad ThingDr. Dennis Selig, a veterinarian at Northwood Hills Animal Hospital in Gulfport, Miss., offers advice on how to handle cats in his column for Knight Ridder Newspapers.Read the article

Its in the ManeScientists measured the size and fullness of lions' manes in northern and southern zoos and found that cats living in colder climates had heartier hairstyles, a key attractant to female lions, livescience.com reports.Read the article

Tiger That Killed Owner Was UnderweightA Bengal tiger that killed its owner at her Pine County, Minn., animal farm last week was about 100 pounds underweight, according to a preliminary examination of the animal, the Associated Press reports.Read the article

Posted: April 13, 2006, 5:00 a.m. EST