

The Cat Channel Newswire

Stay up to date with the latest cat news from all around the country.

Cat Helps Save Homeowners From FireThree homeowners are crediting their pet cat for helping save their lives when their house caught fire early Wednesday morning, KOMO-TV in Seattle reports.Read the article

Cat Shot With Arrows May SurviveA cat shot twice with metal hunting arrows is expected to survive his wounds, but authorities are searching for the person responsible, NBCSanDiego.com reports.Read the article

Improving the Chances of a Cats Nine LivesA feline advocate has been honored by the American Red Cross of Western Connecticut during a heroes recognition breakfast, the Newtown (Connecticut) Bee reports.Read the article:
<http://www.newtownbee.com/Features.asp?s=Features-2006-04-13-12-53-34p1.htm>

Shelter to Raise Cat Adoption FeesThe Green County Humane Society Board at its monthly meeting Wednesday voted to increase the adoption fee for cats because the shelter plans to test every cat for feline leukemia and feline immunodeficiency virus, the Monroe (Wisconsin) Times reports.Read the article

Cats Must Be RegisteredA Vermont town is trying to crack down on mandatory cat registration, the Burlington (Vermont) Free-Press reports.Read the article

Posted: April 14, 2006, 5:00 a.m. EST