

Nicole Richie Adds a Cat to Her Menagerie

Adopted daughter of singer Lionel Richie and star of the Simple Life adds a new pet cat to her household a purebred Bengal.

Britains Daily Star reports that the star is thrilled with her new feline friend and quotes her as saying, They are beautiful. They have long tails and are spotty. I'd have a houseful if I could.

Richie has already selected an unusual name for her new feline friend. I'm thinking of calling it Chi-Chi-Cheetah, she said.

Other pets Richie owns include six rats named after the actors in the television series Beverly Hills 90210 and two dogs, Honeychild and Foxy Cleopatra. Posted: April 15, 2006, 5:00 a.m. EST
