

The Cat Channel Newswire

Stay up to date with the latest cat news from all around the country.

Flood Waters Trap Cats On Shed RoofSan Joaquin River flooding has not only left area humans searching for sandbags and higher ground, but cats have also been scrambling for dry land, the Manteca (California) Bulletin reports.Read the article

Veterinarians License SuspendedThe license of a Greene County veterinarian has been suspended after the state investigated the case of a cat who died at his veterinary hospital, the Albany (New York) Times-Union reports.Read the article

Six Kittens Found Abandoned on BeachIn what appears to be a case of serial kitten cruelty, six cats little more than a month old were left at a beach, the Cape Cod (Massachusetts) Times reports.Read the article

Dozens of Ill Cats Taken From HomeMore than 125 cats many of them very ill have been pulled out of an Idaho home for cats, KTVB-TV in Boise, Idaho reports.Read the article

Posted: April 22, 2006, 5:00 a.m. EST