

The Cat Channel Newswire (7/01/06)

Stay up to date with the latest cat news from all around the country.

State Program Helps Reduce Animal OverpopulationOklahoma has an overpopulation fund that provides financial assistance to low-income families for pet sterilization, The Tahlequah (Oklahoma) Daily Press reports.Read the article

Animals Found in Womans HomeFor the second time in four years, a Buford, Ga., woman is charged with animal cruelty by Gwinnett County Police, WXIA-TV in Atlanta reports.Read the articleNo More Catting AroundTo commemorate its 10,000th surgery last month, the Shenandoah Valley Spay & Neuter Clinic and Cats Cradle hosted a Tomcat Neuter-a-thon on Friday, The (Virginia) Daily News-Record reports.Read the articleWoman Finds Mountain Lion Near HomeA California woman says she got quite a surprise Tuesday morning when she went outside to see what her dog was barking at, The Redding (California) Record Searchlight reports.Read the articlePosted: July 1, 2006, 5:00 a.m. EST