

The Cat Channel Newswire (7/07/06)

Stay up to date with the latest cat news from all around the country.

31-Pound Fat Cat Attracts CrowdsA 31-pound orange tabby has become a tourist draw after he was featured on a television travel show, The Corpus Christi (Texas) Caller-Times reports.Read the article

Dartmouth Cat May Be Among the Worlds OldestMore than a dozen veterinarians believe that a 26-year-old Dartmouth cat could hold the title as one of the oldest known living cats, The (Halifax, Nova Scotia) Daily News reports.Read the article

Here Kitty, KittyAn animal shelter has paired up with rescue groups and a local nonprofit to find homes for dozens of cats in July, The (Springfield, Virginia) Connection reports.Read the article

Neighbors Kill Each Others CatsTwo men in Martin County, Ky., have an Aug. 31 court date after they killed each others cats, The Associated Press reports.Read the article

Couple Barred from Owning CatsA couple accused of abusing their pet cats have been banned from owning any animals for two years and ordered to undergo a psychiatric evaluation, The (Danbury, Connecticut) News Times reports.Read the article
Posted: July 7, 2006, 5:00 a.m. EST