

The Cat Channel Newswire (7/20/06)

Stay up-to-date with the latest cat news from all around the country.

Cat Up and Pouncing After Likely Run-InA cat that was likely the victim of a snare trap has bounced back, The (Washington) Olympian reports. Read the article

New Animal Shelter Going UpA planned animal shelter will include a surgery area and veterinary clinic, separate feline and canine wings, separate puppy and kitten rooms, recovery areas, socialization rooms, and a private area for humane case rescues, The Pittsburgh Tribune-Review reports. Read the article

Fences Moved Back After Tiger IncidentThe day after a tiger on display at the Saratoga County Fair swiped a 4-year-old across the forehead, the big cats remain at the fairgrounds but protective fences have been moved back, The (Albany, New York) Times Union reports. Read the article

Resident Blasts County on CatsA mans residence is being overrun with unwelcome visitors, and Ohio County officials say there is nothing they can do, The Wheeling (West Virginia) Intelligencer reports. Read the article

Posted: July 20, 2006, 5:00 a.m. EST