

Holiday Carriage Rides Benefit Shelter

The Humane Society Silicon Valley partners with Santana Row to offer horse-drawn carriage rides.

Posted: December 15, 2006, 5 a.m. EST

Horse-drawn carriage rides will benefit the animals at Humane Society Silicon Valley. Residents of Santa Clara, Calif., and surrounding areas can support the Humane Society Silicon Valley (HSSV) while enjoying a special treat: a horse-drawn carriage ride that takes passengers past Santana Row's beautiful lights and holiday decorations. The HSSV has partnered with Santana Row to offer these rides Sunday, Dec. 17, from 4 to 7 p.m., and Wednesday, Dec. 20, from 12 to 3 p.m.

The carriage rides will start and finish in Alyssum Plaza near The Container Store, in front of CineArts movie theater. HSSV will accept donations for the cost of the ride, with the suggested donation being $10.

For more information about the carriage rides, visit the Humane Society Silicon Valley's website, or call the Concierge Center at (408) 551-4611.
