

New CD Celebrates Cats and Christmas

Musician Robert J. Fugo releases “Santa Brought Me Cats,” a musical tale of Christmas featuring cats.

Posted: December 18, 2006, 5 a.m. EST

“Santa Brought Me Cats” tells a cat Christmas story.

Robert J. Fugo has added a twist to Christmas. His new CD, “Santa Brought Me Cats,” tells a cat Christmas story that emphasizes the true meaning of Christmas.

Fugo first conceived the idea of his CD in 2000 after a conversation with project director Debra Hoagland. With the talents of producer/engineer Phil Nicolor and engineer Clarke Schleicher, along with a team of award-winning musicians, Fugo has created his cat Christmas story in time for the 2006 holiday season. While listening to the CD, people will hear the tale of the first Christmas celebration and learn what the cats were doing at the time.

“Santa Brought Me Cats” comes with a colorful book to accompany the musical narration. The CD also includes an original Christmas song with the same name.