The Humane Society of Boulder Valley offers professional photography sessions in time for the holidays.

Posted: November 02, 2006, 5 a.m. EST

Include your pet cats in your holiday photo this year by having professional photos with Santa taken at the Humane Society of Boulder Valley Education Center. Appointments are available starting Nov. 3-5, with sessions also available Nov. 17-19 and Dec. 1-3. Photography is provided by Amy Glickson Photography and Photography by Anne Richardson.

Photo sessions will take place from 2 to 7 p.m. on Fridays, and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays. Make an appointment by emailing the Humane Society of Boulder Valley at elissa.sale@boulderhumane.org or calling the shelter at (303) 442-4030, ext. 634. Walk-in photography sessions will be available, but appointments are encouraged.

The 15-minute photography sessions can include Santa if desired and are open to any family members, including cats and other pets. Clients can choose from two backdrops: holiday and neutral. Portrait packages start at $30, and prints will be available approximately two weeks after the session date.
