

Milan Pet Boutique Comes to New York

For Pets Only celebrates its grand opening in New York with a launch party Oct. 11.

Posted: October 09, 2006, 5 a.m. EST

For Pets Only, an upscale pet boutique that offers luxurious items for pets, will celebrate the grand opening of its New York City location Oct. 11 from 6 to 9 p.m. at 87 Mercer St. The event will unveil the store's couture winter collection of pet items and will feature giveaways, pet portraits and psychic pet readings. All pets are welcome.

"We are very excited to have the opportunity to bring Italian luxury to American pets and are celebrating our love for pets with a grand opening party at our new SoHo boutique," said Silvia Savi, owner of For Pets Only, which she founded in Milan in 1998.

At the pet boutique, cat owners will find a range of upscale products for their pets, including collars, grooming products, toys, carrying cases and treats. Clothing items for cats and dogs are available also. All clothing in the store is handmade in Italy, featuring special details such as Swarovski crystals and couture craftsmanship.

For more information about the boutique, visit the For Pets Only website at www.forpetsonlynyc.com.