

Pet TV Show Premieres This Weekend

"Faithful Friends" debuts Sunday morning on Animal Planet.

Posted: April 12 2008 2 a.m. EDT

Electra Mustaine will host the television show "Faithful Friends." "Faithful Friends," a nationally syndicated show featuring pet-owning celebrities and renowned veterinarians, will air weekly beginning Sunday at 9 a.m. and will include 13 half-hour episodes.

Nine-year-old Electra Mustaine, daughter of Dave Mustaine, singer and guitarist for heavy metal band Megadeth, will co-host the show with Wanda Goldberg, a stuntwoman and the wife of retired professional wrestler Bill Goldberg. Dogs, kittens, miniature horses, hedgehogs and chinchillas are just a few of the animals that will appear on the program. The show will give viewers an array of professional advice on caring for their pets.

Show topics include: caring for new pets, traveling with animals, bird tips, grooming advice, suggestions for helping older pets, spaying and neutering, nutrition, training, horse care recommendations, aquarium guidance and more.

The 13-episode rundown is as follows:

- Episode 1: New Pets, Expert-Victoria Schade
- Episode 2: Travel, Expert-Gayle Martz
- Episode 3: Birds, Expert-Dr. Laurie Hess
- Episode 4: Away From Home, Expert-Jackie Navarro
- Episode 5: Grooming, Expert-Christina Provlosky
- Episode 6: Aged Pets, Experts-Dr. Race Foster and John Powers
- Episode 7: Neighbors, Expert-Joel Silverman
- Episode 8: Spay and Neuter, Expert-Dr. Marty Smith
- Episode 9: Nutrition, Expert-Dr. Angele Thompson
- Episode 10: Training, Expert-Maddie Watts
- Episode 11: Behavior, Expert-Kathy Santo
- Episode 12: Fish and Coral, Expert-Kevin Kohen
- Episode 13: Horses, Expert-Dr. Donna Richardson

Doctors Foster and Smith are the primary sponsors of "Faithful Friends."

Click here to read CatChannel's exclusive interview with Electra Mustaine.